LEWIS TALKS TO BROTHERHOODS

Trainmen Hear Washington Candidate for Governor

LAUDABLE ACTIVITIES SHOWN

Dr. Lewis Emphatic in His Declaration That to Procure Better Conditions, it is Necessary For Labor to Organize—Helpful Legislation Advised

Following is the synopsis of an address of William Draper Lewis, at the annual memorial services of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, held in the Forrest theatre, Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon:

The beginning of his address consisted of remarks appropriate to the occasion. Concluding his memorial sentences, he said, "The most sincere proof of the honored remembrance in which you hold your departed is that you are maintaining the organizations in which they were virtually interested, efficiently to promote the objects for which they were founded; a testimony doubly fitting in that these brotherhoods of railroad employees stand for things well worth while."

Notable History of Organizations.

The speaker then called attention to the notable history and the laudable activities of the various brotherhoods of trainmen—their beneficial payments which in 1913 amounted to two million four hundred thousand dollars, their efforts to have safety appliances of various kinds installed, to have full crew law and laws limiting the hours of employment enacted, all of which contribute to the greater safety of railroad travel and their active interest in endeavors to procure needed labor legislation. "The history of your organizations," he said, "reveal a record of strong, sane leadership and wise action."

Dr. Lewis was emphatic in his declaration that to procure better conditions, it is today necessary for labor to organize. "Indeed the slightest observation must lead even the most prejudiced to perceive that unorganized labor does not and cannot secure better conditions."

"Organized workmen, and especially such conservatively progressive organization as those here represented"

NO INQUEST NECESSARY

Coroner Pollum Decides That Than Hippe Took His Own Life.

Coroner J. I. Pollum, of DuBois, went to Curwensville yesterday afternoon, and made an investigation into the cause of the death of Than Hippe, of that place. The investigation seemed to clearly show suicide, and no inquest by jury was required.

When Mr. Hippe disappeared on Tuesday, it was thought that he had left for Clearfield, where a near relative is dangerously ill, and this accounts for no close search having been made for him.

When found, one shell in his revolver was empty. He had shot himself through the head, death resulting instantly. It was the coroner's opinion that he had been dead at least twelve hours when found.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Samuel Barber, pastor of the Curwensville Presbyterian church, will officiate.

SOCIAL AT TRINITY TONIGHT

Epworth League Will Give Pleasant Affair on Church Porch.

No matter how busy you may happen to be or how many engagements you may have made, plan to attend the festival to be given by the members of the Epworth League of Trinity Methodist Episcopal and friends at the church this evening.

There will be good things to eat, including ice cream, cake, sandwiches and home-made candy. It is probable that Prof. Thayer's celebrated Sunday school orchestra will be present to play for the occasion.

Come rain or shine. If the weather is inclement, what matter? The porch is large and a good time is assured. Give the young people your support and presence.

SAY ZACATECAS IS IN REBELS' HANDS

Dispatches Assert That City Fell on June 19.

SAN LUIS POTOSI IS NEXT.

Another Big Battle Expected at Queretaro—Administration Keeps Up Hope in Mediation and Thinks That Success Will Mark the Proceedings in the End—Mexico City Menssed.

Washington, June 25.—Zacatecas fell into the hands of the Constitutionalist on June 19 after hard fighting, according to word received here from a high authority in Tampico.

San Luis Potosi is expected to fall in several days. Another big battle is imminent at Queretaro, according to the dispatch.

Further advices in the same dispatch from Tampico were to the effect that General Aguilera, commander of the Constitutionalist port of Tuxpan, had succeeded in intercepting 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition landed by the German vessel Ypiranga at Puerto Mexico several weeks ago for delivery to Huerta and is now making use of this ammunition to wage war against the federalists.

Believing that the capture of San Luis Potosi is only a few days off, the railroad is being repaired in an effort to cut off the retreat of the federalists.

General Natera, with a large force of Constitutionalist, is attempting to reach Aguascalientes to further block the federal retreat to the City of Mexico.

The Tampico dispatch was also authority for a report that Zapata is again menacing the City of Mexico with a large force.

Keep Up Hope in Mediation.

Washington, June 25.—Reports of the various Mexican factions dealing with their belief in the success or failure of mediation will not be discussed by administration officials. They say that all such declarations are intended for "home consumption" and have no real bearing on the situation.

But it is pointed out that unless the mediators and President Wilson had "something up their sleeves" they would not continue to be so optimistic.

PROGRESSIVES OPEN WESTERN OFFICES

Campaign Headquarters to be Opened at Chicago

The Progressive national committee and the Progressive congressional committee have arranged to open western headquarters for the campaign in Chicago about July 1. Offices have been taken at 19 Jackson Boulevard. Congressman William H. Hinebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the congressional committee, will have charge of the Chicago headquarters of the work of the congressional committee. O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee, will be in charge of the national committee's work. The offices are in the same building with the city Progressive club, and it is probable that the headquarters of the state committee of Illinois will be located in the same building.

Progressive state and county tickets have been put in the field all through the north and candidates for congress have been nominated in all the districts, as well as candidates for the United States senate in all the states where senatorial elections are to occur this year.

The Progressive committees are planning a vigorous campaign. Encouraging reports of the situation have been received from all over this section of the country.

The Speakers' Bureau of the national committee has secured a considerable list of speakers and the committee is also preparing a large quantity of campaign literature, documents and pamphlets which will be distributed for this section through the Chicago headquarters.

Married at Philipsburg.

Ordie Eboch of Philipsburg and Miss Jane M. Cook, of Allport, were married at the Baptist parsonage at Philipsburg on Tuesday evening, by Rev. H. K. Bower. They will reside in Philipsburg.

Festival by Hose Company.

An ice cream festival will be given by the Third ward Hose Co., on the lawn at the hose house, on Friday evening, June 25. Everybody invited.

HOW OUR LUMBER IS NOW UTILIZED

Interesting Statistics Compiled by the Forest Service

ALMOST 100 KINDS OF WOOD

About 45 Billion Feet of Lumber Produced Annually in United States—Between 50 and 60 per cent. Subject to Further Manufacture—Yellow Pine Heads List.

Statistics have been compiled by the forest service which show for the first time precisely how the lumber produced in the country is utilized. About 45 billion feet of lumber of all kinds is the annual production in the United States; of this nearly 25 billion feet, board measure, are further manufactured, the other portion remaining for rough construction lumber and for similar purposes. This is exclusive of material which reaches its final use in the form of fuel, railroad ties, posts, poles, pulpwood, cooperage, wood distillates, and the barks and extracts demanded by the tanning industry.

Nearly or quite 100 different woods are used in this country under their own names, while an unknown number find their way to shops and factories without being identified or separately listed, except under general names. In quantity the softwoods, the needle-leaf or coniferous trees, are most important, but there is a greater number of species among the hardwoods, or broadleaf trees. Yellow pine comes first with more than 8 billion feet, followed by white pine with 3 billion, and Douglass fir with a little more than 2 billion. It should be understood, however, that the term "yellow pine" includes several species, the three most important of which are longleaf, shortleaf and loblolly. Oak, including all species, has nearly 2 billion feet, and is the most important hardwood. Maple comes next.

Dogwood comes about halfway down the list with more than 7 million board feet, and of those species mentioned Turkish boxwood comes last, with less than 30 thousand feet, followed by many others too insignificant to list but making a total of all kinds of more than a million feet. Of the native species, laurel, holly and yucca fall very near the foot of the list in relative quantities used.

Fifty-five principal industries use

RETURNING HOME

R. M. Reed's Return Hastened by Papers Requiring his Attention.

R. M. Reed, the good-looking and accommodating register and recorder, will return home, in all probability, within the next few days. Mr. Reed has been spending the past several weeks with relative in Oregon, where he has enjoyed a fine outing.

He had expected to return to Clearfield shortly, and his homecoming has been hastened by the fact that some papers have been received at his office which require his personal attention. A telegram notifying him of this fact was sent the first of the week. Five days is required to make the trip from Portland to Clearfield.

For the Honor of Old Glory.

"For the Honor of Old Glory, or Uncle Sam in Mexico," a 4 reel feature to be shown at the opera house Monday night, will be the opening gun of a great patriotic entertainment, in keeping with the spirit of the week. This great feature will be shown in connection with the regular service and tells a true story of the experiences of the U. S. troops on the border. A beautiful love story runs through the picture and battle scenes and thrilling situations are plenty.

Visiting in Town.

Mrs. Chester A. Rhodes, nee Miss Ida Enders, and her sister, Miss Barbara Enders, of Birmingham, Alabama, daughters of Harry Enders, formerly of Clearfield, are visiting relatives and friends in town, after an absence of several years. They were accompanied north by their aunt, Miss Lizzie Enders, also a resident of Birmingham, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Toot, of East End and other relatives.

ROOSEVELT INSPECTS SHIP

The Colonel, on Board the "Imperator", Shakes Hands With Crew.

On board the steamship Imperator, by wireless to New York, June 23—Handshaking with grimy firemen and oily engineers in the vitals of the Imperator was part of a general introduction to the big liner, which occupied part of Colonel Roosevelt's day.

The former president, chaffing visibly under confinement of shipboard welcomed the suggestion that he inspect the Imperator, and accompanied by the captain, went through the vessel from stern to stern. Colonel Roosevelt personally met about half of the steamer's crew, and deck hands, coal-passers, officers and engineers alike were given the usual quick grasp of the hand and the usual "delighted" as he passed through.

Four Young Ladies Plan to Surprise Newly-Weds.

Four girls from Kutztown, Pa., went to the P. K. R. train on Tuesday forenoon to bid Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mallon a happy honeymoon, but the newly-weds played them off as took an automobile to Philadelphia.

The girls thought the couple had gone to Woodland to take the train so they too boarded the cars and went to Woodland. To their surprise Mr. and Mrs. Mallon appeared at the station, and the question before the four was how to get back to Clearfield. They turned their backs toward and looked to the county depot where Lehigh Valley's car track overtook them and gave them a lift to this place.

Woodland to Clearfield is some miles for Girl Scouts.

WHY?

Why will man so soon forget the
bounties nature bestows upon him?

Good evening! Watching the sunsets these evenings?

SUCCESS IS ASSURED.

There is now no doubt of the success of the Fourth of July celebration
in Clearfield. The manner in which the merchants and manufacturers
have responded to the request that they provide floats for the industrial parade presages a pageant such as
the people of this section have never before witnessed. Practically every business man and manufacturer in the borough will be represented in the parade.

The committee which has the industrial parade in charge has worked assiduously and effectively. The members desiring to have Clearfield's industries and business places in line so that visitors to the celebration might have an opportunity to see what a progressive town Clearfield is. The committee has made the success of the parade certain, and the display will be a most creditable one and one worth
coming many miles to see.

HOW IT WORKS.

Under the provisions of the public service company law an aggrieved
citizen may appeal to the commission.
If the citizen is dissatisfied with the decision of the commission an appeal
may be taken to the Dauphin county court. If the Dauphin county court
agrees with decision of commission,
then the appeal goes back to the commission—and that ends it. The appellant must pay the costs of the legal proceedings.

If a citizen reports to the commission that he believes that a public service corporations is charging him a too high rate for service the
commission answers that if the citizen will hire a lawyer and with him

meet the commission the matter will be taken up and considered. How many citizens will enter such a proceeding when they know that to hire
a lawyer would cost more than the difference between an honest rate and
an exorbitant rate for the service
rendered by the public service corporation?

The public service company law
was passed to prevent complaints being made against the increase of rate
for service rendered by public service corporations, not to protect the citizen from extortion. If the Clearfield Water company were to install
meters and double the rates it charges
for water there is not the least doubt
that the Public service commission
would indorse the action. It is therefore to the interests of the citizens of Clearfield that they join in the movement which has for its object the repeal or amendment of the public service company law.

Drowning accidents do not happen
to those who have learned to swim
and then sit on the fence and watch
others disport themselves in the water.

State Democrats have their own
troubles, the two factions being busily
engaged in proving each other political rascals.

Penrose cannot be expected to indorse local option so long as the saloons set out cooling drinks.

100 MILE SPEED TEST FOR THE SEA FLIER

America Best Air Craft Ever Built, Says Curtiss.

Hammondsport, N. Y., June 25.—
The America was given her second
trial through the air when Lieutenant
Porte and Glenn Curtiss took Rodman
Wanamaker's airboat for a long trip
over Lake Keuka and the surrounding country. They tried for 100 mile speed.
The hydroaeroplane in which Lieutenant Porte will attempt to cross the Atlantic made three successful flights.
On these flights the America carried
three passengers and considerable bal-
last, and at the conclusion of the trial
Porte declared the air craft was a success in every way.

"She showed us speed, lifting power,
buoyancy, rudder elevator and aileron
control and absolutely perfect engine
action," said Porte. "And in that last factor lies our greatest hope in making
the ocean flight."

The America's engines were throttled down at all times and yet the craft
made fifty miles an hour easily. Every one connected with the construction of the airboat declared the plan of having separate engines to operate the two propellers was a decided improvement.
Curtiss said he had never seen an aero-plane behave so well on her first flight.

Held Up, Beaten and Robbed.

New York, June 25.—Jacob P. Adler,
the actor, was held up and robbed of $1,200 in cash and travelers' checks
for $1,000. Adler was on his way from the theater at the time of the holdup.
He was attacked from behind, beaten
to the sidewalk and while one of the highwaymen held him the other went through his pockets.

DEATHS OF A DAY.

burial office at Yale university, died in
New Haven.

The Rev. Henry W. G. Meaney, vicar at Holy Trinity Episcopal cathedral, Paris,

years.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can
tell, because it's done so naturally,
so evenly. Preparing this mixture,
though, at home is messy and trouble
some. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic
called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy". You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw
this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning
all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair
has stopped falling.

Gray faded hair though no disgrace
is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look
years younger.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back
Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day eat it, but flush your kidneys
with salts occasionally, says a noted
authority who tells us that meat forms
uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with
a dull misery in the kidney region,
sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour,
tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.
The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and
irritated, obliging you to seek relief
two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids,
to cleanse the kidney and flush off the
body's urinous waste get four ounces
of Jad Salts from any pharmacy her
take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days
and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salts is made from the
acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used
for generations to flush and stimulat
sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize
the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful efferves-
cent lithia-water drink.

FIFTY INJURED IN STORM.

St. Paul and Minneapolis Cut Off, Reports Say.

Chicago, June 25.—Fifty persons were injured, some of them fatally, and many houses wrecked by a storm that swept through Watertown, S. D., and moved eastward through southern Minnesota and northern Wisconsin.

Communication to the northwest has been interrupted, and St. Paul and Minneapolis were cut off from communication with the outside world.

Rumors that Lacrosse, Wis., had been visited by a tornado were discounted by the Northwestern road, which reported its wires working into that city, with no accounts of serious damage. Wires west of Madison, Wis., on the Northwestern were tangled. Commercial wires were all down. The heaviest wind on the Northwestern was reported at Elroy, Wis.

LOADED LIFEBOAT DROPPED.

Perilous Rescue of People Off Coast of Italy.

Hugh Town, Sicily Islands, June 25.—The saving of the passengers of the wrecked Belgian steamship Gothland was attended by almost superhuman efforts on the part of the officers and crew of the steamship and by the crews of the life saving boats which came to the rescue when she went ashore on the Crim rocks.

Members of the life saving crew from St. Mary's say that one of the Gothland's small boats, crammed with passengers and seamen, broke away from the davits and fell thirty feet into the sea. The bottom of the boat was smashed by its violent contact with the waves, and all were thrown into the water. Most of the passengers who had occupied the boat were women and children, and they struggled helplessly in the waves. A quartermaster of the Gothland sprang from the steamship's deck and succeeded in saving three of the women.

Storm Sweeps Lake Constance. Friedrichshafen, Wurttemberg, June 25.—Thirty fishermen were missing after the terrific storm which swept the lake of Constance. The bodies of ten have been recovered.

FLOAT WILL BE HANDSOME ONE

horses and like amounts for first and second best automobile floats.

The industrial parade committee are seeking three disinterested, thoroughly qualified, up to date judges, who will be asked to render their decision in accordance with following points:

First—attractiveness. Second—advertisement. Third—originality of design.

As your float passes the crowded street and judges, their first thought will be, is it novel, pretty, symmetrical, pleasing to the aesthetic taste, all of which will give you a grading in attractiveness.

The next thought for the judges to pass upon will be the suitability of the float as an advertisement for the business it represents. Is it catchy? Will the big crowd of viewers carry away a positive impression? etc. The last point, Originality of design, is self-explanatory.

The committee deems this explanation due all float participants.

While there may be some slight changes from the above, the main points as above given will be the basis of awarding prizes.

ANOTHER GOOD MEETING

Evangelist Johnson Speaks to Interested Hearers Wednesday.

Severe thunder storms prevented the usual crowds of people from attending the services at the tabernacle Wednesday night, but in spite of the storms, there were about 500 people present.

There was a delegation of men from Clearfield at the services, among them being a male quartette. These gentlemen sang "What More Could He Do" in a very pleasing manner. Rev. Omar B. Poulson, of New Millport, was also present.

Rev. Johnson after asking God's guidance and help in the presentation of his message, announced his text,

Isaiah 45:22—"Look unto me, and be ye saved, all ye ends of the earth."

He started his discourse by telling his audience that this was the Scripture verse that was the cause of Mr. Spurgeon's conversion, and greatly interested his audience.

"If you are miserable, look to Jesus and he will make you happy. Until you ask Him, He will not take away your sin, and possess your life. If you look to Jesus He can take away all your mean, dirty, nasty habits; no matter how long you have been at them. He can take away your desire for drink. God's spirit will not always strive with man, and so we must turn at once to God; if you do not, you may force God into whipping you to answer His call, if you are a sinner, then God's curse is in your home; if a Christian then God's blessing is in your home. Which will you have in your home tonight?—God's blessing or curse?"

At the close of this most inspiring talk, Evangelist Johnson gave the unsaved an invitation to come down the aisle and surrender their lives to God and be saved. A total of about 400 in the tabernacle since the campaign started. The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan attended the service tonight. Delegations will be present from Philadelphia and Houtdale.

The delegation of ministers and business men who came over from Union on Tuesday were very favorably impressed with the services and the interest shown by our people. They propose purchasing the tabernacle and moving it to Houtdale for their campaign.

Do not fail to have the daily weekly Progress sent to your office during your vacation, this year. No trouble to change your address; you cannot afford to be without your home paper.

HOLD WOMAN FOR RICH MAN'S DEATH

Body Found Outside Her Apartment; Both Prominent.

RED FOOTPRINTS A CLEW.

Waldo R. Ballou of Stamford, Conn., mysteriously killed—Mrs. Helen Angle, divorcee, held—Admits That Murdered Man Visited Her, but Denies Any Knowledge of Crime.

Stamford, Conn., June 25.—The body of Waldo R. Ballou, former city councilman and one of the most prominent men in Stamford, was found on the sidewalk on Main street. Mr. Ballou's head was crushed in evidently from a blow with a heavy instrument. The police are sure that he was murdered.

After a short investigation Mrs. Helen M. Angle, a wealthy divorcee, was arrested and held as a witness pending the action of the coroner. After the discovery of the body the police followed a trail of bloody footprints, which led them directly up the stairs to the door of Mrs. Angle's apartment. She admitted that Ballou had called upon her but denied that she knew anything about his death. The police searched her apartment and found a battered straw hat which they say belonged to Ballou, and some blood stained woman's clothing.

The hallway and stairs of the building bore many marks of a murder. On the stairway were several footprints of stockings feet which had left their perfect outlines in red. These footprints may prove the most important clue in the case. The coroner took steps to have them measured and photographed. They are small and evidently those of a woman.

In several places along the stairs and hallway there were, in addition to the footprints, marks along the wall which the police say showed that the body was dragged along the hallway and down the stairs to the place where it was found in the street.

Town is Stirred by Crime. The discovery of the murder and the arrest of Mrs. Angle created a sensation in town. Both the Ballou and Angle families are prominent socially here. Mr. Ballou was sixty-seven years old and a widower. He has a son, Harry, living at Mamaroneck, and a daughter, who is the wife of Dr. Whitney of the McLean hospital in Waverly, Mass.

The murdered man was an active worker in local Republican politics and was for many years a member of the city council. Serving with him on the board at one time was Leonard Blouddell, a wealthy retired merchant, and father of Mrs. Angle. Mr. Ballou owned considerable property in Stamford. He was assistant superintendent of the Yale lock factory here.

Mrs. Angle is about forty years old and good looking. She has been prominent socially. She is not dependent on her father for support, for she has independent means, owning valuable real estate in Stamford and nearby towns.

Mrs. Angle obtained a divorce from her husband, Frank Angle, about five years ago. He is said to be living now in Bridgeport. Mrs. Angle has been acting as secretary to her father and has been living for some time in an apartment in the Rippowan building, which is just around the corner from Mr. Ballou's house. She is an accomplished singer and has frequently appeared at public entertainments.

She has been receiving Mr. Ballou's attentions for some time. It was said that he was a frequent caller at her apartment. Both Mr. Ballou and Mrs. Angle participated extensively in social affairs in Stamford and were frequently seen at the homes of the most prominent families in the city.

The police on finding footprints, knocked at the door, and after a short delay Mrs. Angle appeared. She was asked if Mr. Ballou had been in her flat. In apparent surprise she asked in return why the police desired to know. Finally she admitted that Ballou had called upon her that night.

"He left early in the evening," she said.

The policeman told Mrs. Angle that

Mr. Ballou was dead and that apparently he had been murdered. They told her that it would be necessary for them to search her rooms, and she made no objections.

Nothing was found until Chief Brennan went to the clothes closet. There he discovered a skirt and waist, both splashed with blood. Almost at the same moment Sergeant Nevins found a battered and red stained man's straw hat. He examined it and saw the initials "W. R. B." inside. Further search revealed a cloth which the police believe was used to wipe up stains in the hallway.

Coroner Phelan took charge of the case after Mrs. Angle was taken to the station, and an inquest will be held as soon as possible. Under the direction of the coroner the police placed a guard on the stairs of the Rippowan building so that the footprints would not be obliterated by the curious crowds that thronged to the place.

Because of the prominence of Ballou and Mrs. Angle the news of the murder brought several hundred men and women to the building, and the police had difficulty in keeping the crowd from surging up the stairs.

COMMUTE SENTENCES OF FOUR DYNAMITERS

Other Appeals For Clemency Are Refused by President.

Washington, June 25.—President Wilson commuted the sentences of four of the men convicted and sent to jail in the dynamite conspiracy cases. Twenty-four of the convicted conspirators appealed to the president to pardon them.

That President Wilson would extend clemency to four of them to the extent of commuting their sentences was announced at the White House. The names of the four fortunate ones will be made public later.

The appeal of the conspirators for a pardon has been before the president for some time, and he has given serious and deep attention to the case. His decision was just received by the department of justice. It is understood that the four whose sentences have been commuted are some of the minor defendants.

All the twenty-four convicted men are at liberty under bail. They will begin to serve their sentences at once, according to the present program. They were originally ordered to present themselves at the federal prison in Leavenworth, Kan., on June 6, but this time was extended to June 25 to give President Wilson more time to consider the merits of their application.

Even the senators and representatives who have worked in behalf of Frank M. Ryan, one time head of the Structural Iron Workers, have no hope that his name is among those to whom the president extended clemency.

he said, "have a great opportunity today to exert their influence in encouraging the application to modern industrial problems, and primarily to those concerning relations between capital and labor, of the twentieth century scientific spirit,—a spirit that refused to admit that any given bad condition cannot be eliminated, but at the same time insists that the first step in the solution of any problem is so to analyze it as to perceive clearly what its real basic nature is. The great problem in the relations between capital and labor is the outgrowth of certain facts which on their face seem to conflict and is complicated by some fundamental principles of law.

Helpful Legislation Advised.

"The fact out of which the greatest problem grows is that under modern industrial conditions unrestrained competition between workmen for work results in their moral and physical deterioration. This is a fact which many will not accept and yet it is susceptible of absolute proof. Unrestrained competition may be prevented in two ways: First. By the passage of legislation such as minimum wage laws, acts limiting the hours of employment, and factory laws. Second. By recognizing that the wage contract should not be made with the individual workman, or with an association representing merely the employees of a single establishment, but should be the subject of collective bargaining between employers and organizations of workmen. The recognition of the necessity for collective bargaining is essential to substantial improvement in the conditions of labor beyond the point of bare subsistence.

The Secondary Boycott.

There are, however, certain fundamental principles of law which stand in the way of workmen in his effort to compel the recognition of this necessity. The secondary boycott has been declared unlawful because of the operation of the fundamental principle that one man shall not so act as intentionally to injure another and the secondary boycott is an essential weapon in the hand of labor in its fight to compel collective bargaining. In declaring the boycott unlawful, the courts have unquestionably acted in accordance with established legal thought. But we are as a people rapidly coming to the conclusion that the progress of labor under modern conditions depends on its ability to deal with employers through labor organizations. Let this fact be generally recognized, and it will become apparent that the workman has a moral right to have his union recognized by his employer and that those employers who persistently refuse to recognize the workmen's union are, in most cases, guilty of anti-social conduct."

In the speaker's opinion a way will be found not necessarily by generalizing the legalizing the secondary boycott, but in some other way, to give workmen the right to compel employers either to recognize their unions, or at least to arbitrate the question whether they shall be recognized.

ONE DEAD AFTER RIOT OF MINERS

Dynamite Destroys Buildings at Meeting of Union.

PRESIDENT CANNOT BE FOUND

Moyer, Head of Western Federation of Miners, Finds Safety in Flight at First Blast of Dynamite—One Building Demolished in Butte and Many Others Damaged.

Butte, Mont., June 25.—One life was lost and damage estimated at about $100,000 was caused by the rioting and dynamiting of the Butte Miners' Union hall, the front of practically every building in the square of which the Miners' hall was the center being wrecked by the continued charges of explosive set off by insurgent miners against local headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners.

Ernest J. Noy, secretary of the Knights of Pythias and inspector of the demurrage bureau, was shot and instantly killed by a rifle bullet fired from a window.

Two men were seriously injured by flying bricks and sticks, both being struck on the head and shoulders. Hundreds of persons were struck by showers of flying glass, which rattled down upon the heads of the people packed on the sidewalk every time a blast was set off.

Dynamiting did not cease until after midnight, after more than a score of blasts had been exploded, and the Federation hall practically demolished, the walls in front and back having been blown out and the roof caved to the ground.

The whereabouts of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who fled the Miners' hall when the firing began, is a matter of conjecture.

He leaped into an automobile and was driven rapidly away. There was a report that he had taken refuge in the county jail, but Sheriff Driscoll denied this, offering to conduct a search party through the prison.

The belief prevailed that Moyer and other fleeing federation officials have left town and that further effort of the Western Federation of Miners to hold its own in Butte are at an end. Labor leaders express the opinion that the new organization of miners now is the dominant labor force in the Butte district.

HOW OUR LUMBER IS UTILIZED

wood as raw material. Their relative importance is hard to indicate, because quantity alone is not in all cases a criterion of value of an industry to the community in which it is situated, nor to the country as a whole.

More than one-half of the total consumption consists of planing mill products, the largest items of which are flooring, siding, ceiling and finishing. The next industry, in point of quantity of wood used is the manufacturers of boxes and crates. Nearly four times as much wood is demanded by makers of boxes and crates as by the builders of steam and electric cars, which come next, and five fold the amount that goes into furniture, which in turn leads vehicle manufacture. Vehicles demand surprisingly large supplies of wood, and much of it must be of a high class in order to meet requirements for frames, gears and bodies.

Chairs, listed separately from furniture, come after novelties and supplies for dairymen, poultry keepers, and apirists, and just before handles, and musical instruments. About midway down the list come pumps and wood pipes. Among the products important enough to list separately are canes and umbrella sticks, brooms, firearms, artificial limbs and tobacco pipes.

The apportionment of wood among the various industries, grades from planing mill products, which take most, down to aeroplanes and dry kilns, at the bottom of the list.

LEWIS TALKS TO BROTHERHOODS

LAUDABLE ACTIVITIES SHOWN

Dr. Lewis Emphatic in His Declaration That to Procure Better Conditions, It is Necessary For Labor to Organize—Helpful Legislation Advised

Following is the synopsis of an address of William Draper Lewis, at the annual memorial services of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, held in the Forrest theatre, Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon:

The beginning of his address consisted of remarks appropriate to the occasion. Concluding his memorial sentences, he said, "The most sincere proof of the honored remembrance in which you hold your departed is that you are maintaining the organizations in which they were virtually interested, efficiently to promote the objects for which they were founded; a testimony doubly fitting in that these brotherhoods of railroad employees stand for things well worth while."

Notable History of Organizations.

The speaker then called attention to the notable history and the laudable activities of the various brotherhoods of trainmen—their beneficial payments which in 1913 amounted to two million four hundred thousand dollars, their efforts to have safety appliances of various kinds installed, to have full crew law and laws limiting the hours of employment enacted, all of which contribute to the greater safety of railroad travel and their active interest in endeavors to procure needed labor legislation. "The history of your organizations," he said, "reveal a record of strong, sane leadership and wise action."

Dr. Lewis was emphatic in his declaration that to procure better conditions, it is today necessary for labor to organize. "Indeed the slightest observation must lead even the most prejudiced to perceive that unorganized labor does not and cannot secure better conditions."

"Organized workmen, and especially such conservatively progressive organization as those here represented"

Coroner Pollum Decides That Than Hipps Took His Own Life.

Coroner J. I. Pollum, of DuBois, went to Curwensville yesterday afternoon, and made an investigation into the cause of the death of Than Hipps, of that place. The investigation seemed to clearly show suicide, and no inquest by jury was required.

When Mr. Hipps disappeared on Tuesday, it was thought that he had left for Clearfield, where a near relative is dangerously ill, and this accounts for no close search having been made for him.

When found, one shell in his revolver was empty. He had shot himself through the head, death resulting instantly. It was the coroner's opinion that he had been dead at least twelve hours when found.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Samuel Barber, pastor of the Curwensville Presbyterian church, will officiate.

SOCIAL AT TRINITY TONIGHT

Epworth League Will Give Pleasant Affair on Church Porch.

No matter how busy you may happen to be or how many engagements you may have made, plan to attend the festival to be given by the members of the Epworth League of Trinity Methodist Episcopal and friends at the church this evening.

There will be good things to eat, including ice cream, cake, sandwiches and home-made candy. It is probable that Prof. Thayer's celebrated Sunday school orchestra will be present to play for the occasion.

Come rain or shine. If the weather is inclement, what matter? The porch is large and a good time is assured. Give the young people your support and presence.

SAY ZACATECAS IS IN REBELS' HANDS

Dispatches Assert That City Fell on June 19.

SAN LUIS POTOSI IS NEXT.

Another Big Battle Expected at Queretaro—Administration Keeps Up Hope in Mediation and Thinks That Success Will Mark the Proceedings in the End—Mexico City Menssed.

Washington, June 25.—Zacatecas fell into the hands of the Constitutionalist on June 19 after hard fighting, according to word received here from a high authority in Tampico.

San Luis Potosi is expected to fall in several days. Another big battle is imminent at Queretaro, according to the dispatch.

Further advice in the same dispatch from Tampico were to the effect that General Aguilera, commander of the Constitutionalist port of Tuxpan, had succeeded in intercepting 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition landed by the German vessel Ypiranga at Puerto Mexico several weeks ago for delivery to Huerta and is now making use of this ammunition to wage war against the federalists.

Believing that the capture of San Luis Potosi is only a few days off, the railroad is being repaired in an effort to cut off the retreat of the federalists.

General Natera, with a large force of Constitutionalist, is attempting to reach Aguascalientes to further block the federal retreat to the City of Mexico.

The Tampico dispatch was also authority for a report that Zapata is again menacing the City of Mexico with a large force.

Keep Up Hope in Mediation. Washington, June 25.—Reports of the various Mexican factions dealing with their belief in the success or failure of mediation will not be discussed by administration officials. They say that all such declarations are intended for "home consumption" and have no real bearing on the situation.

But it is pointed out that unless the mediators and President Wilson had "something up their sleeves" they would not continue to be so optimistic.

PROGRESSIVES OPEN WESTERN OFFICES

Campaign Headquarters to be Opened at Chicago

The Progressive national committee and the Progressive congressional committee have arranged to open western headquarters for the campaign in Chicago about July 1. Offices have been taken at 19 Jackson Boulevard. Congressman William H. Hinebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the congressional committee, will have charge of the Chicago headquarters of the work of the congressional committee. O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee, will be in charge of the national committee's work. The offices are in the same building with the city Progressive club, and it is probable that the headquarters of the state committee of Illinois will be located in the same building.

Progressive state and county tickets have been put in the field all through the north and candidates for congress have been nominated in all the districts, as well as candidates for the United States senate in all the states where senatorial elections are to occur this year.

The Progressive committees are planning a vigorous campaign. Encouraging reports of the situation have been received from all over this section of the country.

The Speakers' Bureau of the national committee has secured a considerable list of speakers and the committee is also preparing a large quantity of campaign literature, documents and pamphlets which will be distributed for this section through the Chicago headquarters.

Interesting Statistics Compiled by the Forest Service

ALMOST 100 KINDS OF WOOD

About 45 Billion Feet of Lumber Produced Annually in United States—Between 50 and 60 per cent. Subject to Further Manufacture—Yellow Pine Heads List.

Statistics have been compiled by the forest service which show for the first time precisely how the lumber produced in the country is utilized. About 45 billion feet of lumber of all kinds is the annual production in the United States; of this nearly 25 billion feet, board measure, are further manufactured, the other portion remaining for rough construction lumber and for similar purposes. This is exclusive of material which reaches its final use in the form of fuel, railroad ties, posts, poles, pulpwood, cooperage, wood distillates, and the barks and extracts demanded by the tanning industry.

Nearly or quite 100 different woods are used in this country under their own names, while an unknown number find their way to shops and factories without being identified or separately listed, except under general names. In quantity the softwoods, the needle-leaf or coniferous trees, are most important, but there is a greater number of species among the hardwoods, or broadleaf trees. Yellow pine comes first with more than 8 billion feet, followed by white pine with 3 billion, and Douglass fir with a little more than 2 billion. It should be understood, however, that the term "yellow pine" includes several species, the three most important of which are longleaf, shortleaf and loblolly. Oak, including all species, has nearly 2 billion feet, and is the most important hardwood. Maple comes next.

Dogwood comes about halfway down the list with more than 7 million board feet, and of those species mentioned Turkish boxwood comes last, with less than 30 thousand feet, followed by many others too insignificant to list but making a total of all kinds of more than a million feet. Of the native species, laurel, holly and yucca fall very near the foot of the list in relative quantities used.

RETURNING HOME

R. M. Reed's Return Hastened by Papers Requiring his Attention.

R. M. Reed, the good-looking and accommodating register and recorder, will return home, in all probability, within the next few days. Mr. Reed has been spending the past several weeks with relative in Oregon, where he has enjoyed a fine outing.

He had expected to return to Clearfield shortly, and his homecoming has been hastened by the fact that some papers have been received at his office which require his personal attention. A telegram notifying him of this fact was sent the first of the week. Five days is required to make the trip from Portland to Clearfield.

For the Honor of Old Glory.

"For the Honor of Old Glory, or Uncle Sam in Mexico," a 4 reel feature to be shown at the opera house Monday night, will be the opening gun of a great patriotic entertainment, in keeping with the spirit of the week. This great feature will be shown in connection with the regular service and tells a true story of the experiences of the U. S. troops on the border. A beautiful love story runs through the picture and battle scenes and thrilling situations are plenty.

Visiting in Town.

Mrs. Chester A. Rhodes, nee Miss Ida Enders, and her sister, Miss Barbara Enders, of Birmingham, Alabama, daughters of Harry Endres, formerly of Clearfield, are visiting relatives and friends in town, after an absence of several years. They were accompanied north by their aunt, Miss Lizzie Endres, also a resident of Birmingham, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Toot, of East End and other relatives.

ROOSEVELT INSPECTS SHIP

The Colonel, on Board the "Imperator", Shakes Hands With Crew.

On board the steamship Imperator, by wireless to New York, June 23—Handshaking with grimy firemen and oily engineers in the vitals of the Imperator was part of a general introduction to the big liner, which occupied part of Colonel Roosevelt's day.

The former president, chaffing visibly under confinement of shipboard welcomed the suggestion that he inspect the Imperator, and accompanied by the captain, went through the vessel from stern to stern. Colonel Roosevelt personally met about half of the steamer's crew, and deck hands, coal-passers, officers and engineers alike were given the usual quick grasp of the hand and the usual "delighted" as he passed through.

Four Young Ladies Plan to Surprise Newly-Weds.

Four girls from Kutztown, Pa., went to the P. K. R. train on Tuesday forenoon to bid Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mallon a happy honeymoon, but the newly-weds played them off as took an automobile to Philadelphia.

The girls thought the joke had gone to Woodland to take the train so they too boarded the cars and went to Woodland. To their surprise Mr. and Mrs. Mallon appeared at the station, and the question before the four was how to get back to Clearfield. They turned their backs toward and hid in the country hotel where Landersburg-Barber's ship track overtook them and gave them a lift to this place.

Woodland to Clearfield is some miles for Girl Scouts.

The secretaries of the respective Y. M. C. A.'s will use their discretion in allowing boys under twelve years of age to go to camp.

WHY?

Why will man so soon forget the
bounties nature bestows upon him?

Good evening! Watching the sun-
sets these evenings?

SUCCESS IS ASSURED.

There is now no doubt of the success of the Fourth of July celebration
in Clearfield. The manner in which
the merchants and manufacturers
have responded to the request that
they provide floats for the industrial
parade presages a pageant such as
the people of this section have never before witnessed. Practically every business man and manufacturer in
parade.

The committee which has the industrial parade in charge has worked
assiduously and effectively. The members desiring to have Clearfield's industries and business places in line so
that visitors to the celebration might
have an opportunity to see what a progressive town Clearfield is. The committee has made the success of the
parade certain, and the display will be
a most creditable one and one worth
coming many miles to see.

HOW IT WORKS.

Under the provisions of the public
service company law an aggrieved
citizen may appeal to the commission.
If the citizen is dissatisfied with the decision of the commission an appeal
may be taken to the Dauphin county
court. If the Dauphin county court
agrees with decision of commission,
then the appeal goes back to the commission—and that ends it. The appellant must pay the costs of the legal
proceedings.

If a citizen reports to the commission that he believes that a public service corporation is charging him a too high rate for service the
commission answers that if the citizen will hire a lawyer and with him

meet the commission the matter will be taken up and considered. How
many citizens will enter such a proceeding when they know that to hire
a lawyer would cost more than the difference between an honest rate and
an exorbitant rate for the service
rendered by the public service corporation?

The public service company law
was passed to prevent complaints being made against the increase of rate
for service rendered by public service corporations, not to protect the citizen from extortion. If the Clear-
field Water company were to install
meters and double the rates it charges
for water there is not the least doubt
that the Public service commission
would indorse the action. It is therefore to the interests of the citizens of Clearfield that they join in the movement which has for its object the repeal or amendment of the public service company law.

Drowning accidents do not happen
to those who have learned to swim
and then sit on the fence and watch
others disport themselves in the water.

State Democrats have their own
troubles, the two factions being busily
engaged in proving each other political rascals.

Penrose cannot be expected to in-
dorse local option so long as the saloons set out cooling drinks.

Join in the celebration of the Fourth.

100 MILE SPEED TEST FOR THE SEA FLIER

America Best Air Craft Ever Built, Says Curtiss.

Hammondsport, N. Y., June 25.—
The America was given her second
trial through the air when Lieutenant
Porte and Glenn Curtiss took Rodman
Wanamaker's airboat for a long trip
over Lake Keuka and the surrounding country. They tried for 100 mile speed.
The hydroaeroplane in which Lieutenant Porte will attempt to cross the Atlantic made three successful flights.
On these flights the America carried
three passengers and considerable bal-
last, and at the conclusion of the trial
Porte declared the air craft was a success in every way.

"She showed us speed, lifting power,
buoyancy, rudder elevator and aileron
control and absolutely perfect engine
action," said Porte. "And in that last
factor lies our greatest hope in making
the ocean flight."

The America's engines were throt-
tled down at all times and yet the craft
made fifty miles an hour easily. Every one connected with the construction of
the airboat declared the plan of having
separate engines to operate the two
propellers was a decided improvement.
Curtiss said he had never seen an aéro-
plane behave so well on her first flight.

Held Up, Beaten and Robbed.

New York, June 25.—Jacob P. Adler,
the actor, was held up and robbed of $1,200 in cash and travelers' checks
for $1,000. Adler was on his way from the theater at the time of the holdup.
He was attacked from behind, beaten
to the sidewalk and while one of the highwaymen held him the other went
through his pockets.

DEATHS OF A DAY.

burial office at Yale university, died in
New Haven.

The Rev. Henry W. G. Meaney, vicar at Holy Trinity Episcopal cathedral, Paris,

years.

You can Bring Back Color and Lus-
tre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can
tell, because it's done so naturally,
so evenly. Preparing this mixture,
though, at home is messy and trouble
some. For 50 cents you can buy at
any drug store the ready-to-use tonic
called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy". You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw
this through your hair, taking one
small strand at a time. By morning
all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your
hair becomes beautifully darkened,
glossy and luxuriant. You will also
discover dandruff is gone and hair
has stopped falling.

Gray faded hair though no disgrace
is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look
years younger.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back
Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every
day eat it, but flush your kidneys
with salts occasionally, says a noted
authority who tells us that meat forms
uric acid which almost paralyzes the
kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with
a dull misery in the kidney region,
sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour,
tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.
The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and
irritated, obliging you to seek relief
two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids,
to cleanse the kidney and flush off the
body's urinous waste get four ounces
of Jad Salts from any pharmacy her
take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days
and your kidneys will then act fine.
This famous salts is made from the
acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used
for generations to flush and stimulat
 sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize
the acids in urine, so it no longer ir-
ritates thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful efferves-
cent lithia-water drink.

FIFTY INJURED IN STORM.

St. Paul and Minneapolis Cut Off, Reports Say.

Chicago, June 25.—Fifty persons were injured, some of them fatally, and many houses wrecked by a storm that swept through Watertown, S. D., and moved eastward through southern Minnesota and northern Wisconsin.

Communication to the northwest has been interrupted, and St. Paul and Minneapolis were cut off from communication with the outside world.

Rumors that Lacrosse, Wis., had been visited by a tornado were discounted by the Northwestern road, which reported its wires working into that city, with no accounts of serious damage. Wires west of Madison, Wis., on the Northwestern were tangled. Commercial wires were all down. The heaviest wind on the Northwestern was reported at Elroy, Wis.

LOADED LIFEBOAT DROPPED.

Perilous Rescue of People Off Coast of Italy.

Hugh Town, Sicily Islands, June 25.—The saving of the passengers of the wrecked Belgian steamship Gothland was attended by almost superhuman efforts on the part of the officers and crew of the steamship and by the crews of the life saving boats which came to the rescue when she went ashore on the Crim rocks.

Members of the life saving crew from St. Mary's say that one of the Gothland's small boats, crammed with passengers and seamen, broke away from the davits and fell thirty feet into the sea. The bottom of the boat was smashed by its violent contact with the waves, and all were thrown into the water. Most of the passengers who had occupied the boat were women and children, and they struggled helplessly in the waves. A quartermaster of the Gothland sprang from the steamship's deck and succeeded in saving three of the women.

Storm Sweeps Lake Constance. Friedrichshafen, Wurttemberg, June 25.—Thirty fishermen were missing after the terrific storm which swept the lake of Constance. The bodies of ten have been recovered.

The industrial parade committee are seeking three disinterested, thoroughly qualified, up to date judges, who will be asked to render their decision in accordance with following points:

First—attractiveness. Second—advertisement. Third—originality of design.

As your float passes the crowded street and judges, their first thought will be, is it novel, pretty, symmetrical, pleasing to the aesthetic taste, all of which will give you a grading in attractiveness.

The next thought for the judges to pass upon will be the suitability of the float as an advertisement for the business it represents. Is it catchy? Will the big crowd of viewers carry away a positive impression? etc.

ANOTHER GOOD MEETING

Evangelist Johnson Speaks to Interested Hearers Wednesday.

Severe thunder storms prevented the usual crowds of people from attending the services at the tabernacle Wednesday night, but in spite of the storms, there were about 500 people present.

There was a delegation of men from Clearfield at the services, among them being a male quartette. These gentlemen sang "What More Could He Do" in a very pleasing manner. Rev. Omar B. Poulson, of New Millport, was also present.

Rev. Johnson after asking God's guidance and help in the presentation of his message, announced his text,

Isaiah 45:22—"Look unto me, and be ye saved, all ye ends of the earth."

He started his discourse by telling his audience that this was the Scripture verse that was the cause of Mr. Spurgeon's conversion, and greatly interested his audience.

"If you are miserable, look to Jesus and he will make you happy. Until you ask Him, He will not take away your sin, and possess your life. If you look to Jesus He can take away all your mean, dirty, nasty habits; no matter how long you have been at them. He can take away your desire for drink. God's spirit will not always strive with man, and so we must turn at once to God; if you do not, you may force God into whipping you to answer His call, if you are a sinner, then God's curse is in your home; if a Christian then God's blessing is in your home. Which will you have in your home tonight?—God's blessing or curse?"

At the close of this most inspiring talk, Evangelist Johnson gave the unsaved an invitation to come down the aisle and kneel before God and receive His blessing. The delegation of men from Union on Tuesday were very favorably impressed with the services and the interest shown by our people. They propose purchasing the tabernacle and moving it to Mount Union for their campaign.

Do not fail to have the daily weekly Progress sent to your office during your vacation, this year. No trouble to change your address; you cannot afford to be without your home paper.

HOLD WOMAN FOR RICH MAN'S DEATH

Body Found Outside Her Apartment; Both Prominent.

RED FOOTPRINTS A CLEW.

Waldo R. Ballou of Stamford, Conn., mysteriously killed—Mrs. Helen Angle, divorcee, held—Admits That Murdered Man Visited Her, but Denies Any Knowledge of Crime.

Stamford, Conn., June 25.—The body of Waldo R. Ballou, former city councilman and one of the most prominent men in Stamford, was found on the sidewalk on Main street. Mr. Ballou's head was crushed in evidently from a blow with a heavy instrument. The police are sure that he was murdered.

After a short investigation Mrs. Helen M. Angle, a wealthy divorcee, was arrested and held as a witness pending the action of the coroner. After the discovery of the body the police followed a trail of bloody footprints, which led them directly up the stairs to the door of Mrs. Angle's apartment. She admitted that Ballou had called upon her but denied that she knew anything about his death. The police searched her apartment and found a battered straw hat which they say belonged to Ballou, and some blood stained woman's clothing.

The hallway and stairs of the building bore many marks of a murder. On the stairway were several footprints of stockings feet which had left their perfect outlines in red. These footprints may prove the most important clue in the case. The coroner took steps to have them measured and photographed. They are small and evidently those of a woman.

In several places along the stairs and hallway there were, in addition to the footprints, marks along the wall which the police say showed that the body was dragged along the hallway and down the stairs to the place where it was found in the street.

Town Is Stirred by Crime.

The discovery of the murder and the arrest of Mrs. Angle created a sensation in town. Both the Ballou and Angle families are prominent socially here. Mr. Ballou was sixty-seven years old and a widower. He has a son, Harry, living at Mamaroneck, and a daughter, who is the wife of Dr. Whitney of the McLean hospital in Waverly, Mass.

The murdered man was an active worker in local Republican politics and was for many years a member of the city council. Serving with him on the board at one time was Leonard Bloudek, a wealthy retired merchant, and father of Mrs. Angle. Mr. Ballou owned considerable property in Stamford. He was assistant superintendent of the Yale lock factory here.

Mrs. Angle is about forty years old and good looking. She has been prominent socially. She is not dependent on her father for support, for she has independent means, owning valuable real estate in Stamford and nearby towns.

Mrs. Angle obtained a divorce from her husband, Frank Angle, about five years ago. He is said to be living now in Bridgeport. Mrs. Angle has been acting as secretary to her father and has been living for some time in an apartment in the Rippowan building, which is just around the corner from Mr. Ballou's house. She is an accomplished singer and has frequently appeared at public entertainments.

She has been receiving Mr. Ballou's attentions for some time. It was said that he was a frequent caller at her apartment. Both Mr. Ballou and Mrs. Angle participated extensively in social affairs in Stamford and were frequently seen at the homes of the most prominent families in the city.

The police, on finding footprints, knocked at the door, and after a short delay Mrs. Angle appeared. She was asked if Mr. Ballou had been in her flat. In apparent surprise she asked in return why the police desired to know. Finally she admitted that Ballou had called upon her that night.

"He left early in the evening," she said.

The policeman told Mrs. Angle that

Mr. Ballou was dead and that apparently he had been murdered. They told her that it would be necessary for them to search her rooms, and she made no objections.

Nothing was found until Chief Brennan went to the clothes closet. There he discovered a skirt and waist, both splashed with blood. Almost at the same moment Sergeant Nevins found a battered and red stained man's straw hat. He examined it and saw the initials "W. R. B." inside. Further search revealed a cloth which the police believe was used to wipe up stains in the hallway.

Coroner Phelan took charge of the case after Mrs. Angle was taken to the station, and an inquest will be held as soon as possible. Under the direction of the coroner the police placed a guard on the stairs of the Rippowan building so that the footprints would not be obliterated by the curious crowds that thronged to the place.

Because of the prominence of Ballou and Mrs. Angle the news of the murder brought several hundred men and women to the building, and the police had difficulty in keeping the crowd from surging up the stairs.

COMMUTE SENTENCES OF FOUR DYNAMITERS

Other Appeals For Clemency Are Refused by President.

Washington, June 25.—President Wilson commuted the sentences of four of the men convicted and sent to jail in the dynamite conspiracy cases. Twenty-four of the convicted conspirators appealed to the president to pardon them.

That President Wilson would extend clemency to four of them to the extent of commuting their sentences was announced at the White House. The names of the four fortunate ones will be made public later.

The appeal of the conspirators for a pardon has been before the president for some time, and he has given serious and deep attention to the case. His decision was just received by the department of justice. It is understood that the four whose sentences have been commuted are some of the minor defendants.

All the twenty-four convicted men are at liberty under bail. They will begin to serve their sentences at once, according to the present program. They were originally ordered to present themselves at the federal prison in Leavenworth, Kan., on June 6, but this time was extended to June 25 to give President Wilson more time to consider the merits of their application.

Even the senators and representatives who have worked in behalf of Frank M. Ryan, one time head of the Structural Iron Workers, have no hope that his name is among those to whom the president extended clemency.

he said, "have a great opportunity today to exert their influence in encouraging the application to modern industrial problems, and primarily to those concerning relations between capital and labor, of the twentieth century scientific spirit,—a spirit that refused to admit that any given bad condition cannot be eliminated, but at the same time insists that the first step in the solution of any problem is so to analyze it as to perceive clearly what its real basic nature is. The great problem in the relations between capital and labor is the outgrowth of certain facts which on their face seem to conflict and is complicated by some fundamental principles of law.

Helpful Legislation Advised.

"The fact out of which the greatest problem grows is that under modern industrial conditions unrestrained competition between workmen for work results in their moral and physical deterioration. This is a fact which many will not accept and yet it is susceptible of absolute proof. Unrestrained competition may be prevented in two ways: First. By the passage of legislation such as minimum wage laws, acts limiting the hours of employment, and factory laws. Second. By recognizing that the wage contract should not be made with the individual workman, or with an association representing merely the employees of a single establishment, but should be the subject of collective bargaining between employers and organizations of workmen. The recognition of the necessity for collective bargaining is essential to substantial improvement in the conditions of labor beyond the point of bare subsistence.

The Secondary Boycott.

There are, however, certain fundamental principles of law which stand in the way of workmen in his effort to compel the recognition of this necessity. The secondary boycott has been declared unlawful because of the operation of the fundamental principle that one man shall not so act as intentionally to injure another and the secondary boycott is an essential weapon in the hand of labor in its fight to compel collective bargaining. In declaring the boycott unlawful, the courts have unquestionably acted in accordance with established legal thought. But we are as a people rapidly coming to the conclusion that the progress of labor under modern conditions depends on its ability to deal with employers through labor organizations. Let this fact be generally recognized, and it will become apparent that the workman has a moral right to have his union recognized by his employer and that those employers who persistently refuse to recognize the workmen's union are, in most cases, guilty of anti-social conduct."

In the speaker's opinion a way will be found not necessarily by generalizing legalizing the secondary boycott, but in some other way, to give workmen the right to compel employers either to recognize their unions, or at least to arbitrate the question whether they shall be recognized.

Dynamite Destroys Buildings at Meeting of Union.

PRESIDENT CANNOT BE FOUND

Moyer, Head of Western Federation of Miners, Finds Safety in Flight at First Blast of Dynamite—One Building Demolished in Butte and Many Others Damaged.

Butte, Mont., June 25.—One life was lost and damage estimated at about $100,000 was caused by the rioting and dynamiting of the Butte Miners' Union hall, the front of practically every building in the square of which the Miners' hall was the center being wrecked by the continued charges of explosive set off by insurgent miners against local headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners.

Ernest J. Noy, secretary of the Knights of Pythias and inspector of the demurrage bureau, was shot and instantly killed by a rifle bullet fired from a window.

Two men were seriously injured by flying bricks and sticks, both being struck on the head and shoulders. Hundreds of persons were struck by showers of flying glass, which rattled down upon the heads of the people packed on the sidewalk every time a blast was set off.

Dynamiting did not cease until after midnight, after more than a score of blasts had been exploded, and the Federation hall practically demolished, the walls in front and back having been blown out and the roof caved to the ground.

The whereabouts of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who fled the Miners' hall when the firing began, is a matter of conjecture.

He leaped into an automobile and was driven rapidly away. There was a report that he had taken refuge in the county jail, but Sheriff Driscoll denied this, offering to conduct a search party through the prison.

The belief prevailed that Moyer and other fleeing federation officials have left town and that further effort of the Western Federation of Miners to hold its own in Butte are at an end. Labor leaders express the opinion that the new organization of miners now is the dominant labor force in the Butte district.

wood as raw material. Their relative importance is hard to indicate, because quantity alone is not in all cases a criterion of value of an industry to the community in which it is situated, nor to the country as a whole.

More than one-half of the total consumption consists of planing mill products, the largest items of which are flooring, siding, ceiling and finishing. The next industry, in point of quantity of wood used is the manufacturers of boxes and crates. Nearly four times as much wood is demanded by makers of boxes and crates as by the builders of steam and electric cars, which come next, and five fold the amount that goes into furniture, which in turn leads vehicle manufacture. Vehicles demand surprisingly large supplies of wood, and much of it must be of a high class in order to meet requirements for frames, gears and bodies.

Chairs, listed separately from furniture, come after novelties and supplies for dairymen, poultry keepers, and apirists, and just before handles, and musical instruments. About midway down the list come pumps and wood pipes. Among the products important enough to list separately are canes and umbrella sticks, brooms, firearms, artificial limbs and tobacco pipes.

The apportionment of wood among the various industries, grades from planing mill products, which take most, down to aeroplanes and dry kilns, at the bottom of the list.
